- Summary of arguments,
- Arguments with point headings, and

- (b) The length of each memorial must not exceed 15 pages. This page limit is inclusive of any statements of facts, summary of arguments, arguments and prayer or conclusion and footnotes. The front cover page, table of contents, index of authorities or other material that does not consist of facts, argument, discussion or conclusion are excluded from the page limit.

(e) All page margins must be at least 1 inch or 2.5 cm on each side.

Once the memorials have been submitted via email no revisions, supplements, or additions will be allowed.

5.4. Grading

(a) Memorials will be graded for both content and style. The factors memorial judges will consider include, but are not limited to, the following: legal substance; use of authority and extent of research; issue analysis; logic and reasoning; clarity and organization; persuasiveness; thoroughness; style; grammar; spelling; citation frequency and form; and compliance with MIMAC rules, including formatting rules in 5.2.

(b) While arbitrators are encouraged to provide constructive feedback to the teams, they are not required to do so.

(c) Team advisors may not register with MMCS to grade any memorials of MIMAC.

(e) Team rankings for the memorials will not be released to the Teams until after the close of MIMAC.

5.5. Plagiarism

Any memorials that include exact or paraphrased text from any source, whether from hard copy or on the web, must set out that text in quotation marks and give the citation to the source. Failure to give a proper citation constitutes as plagiarism. Any memorials that violate this rule will be automatically disqualified.

6. ORAL ARGUMENTS PROCEDURE

6.1 Duration of Arguments

(a) Each team will plead two times in the general rounds, once as claimant and once as respondent.

(b) The oral presentation of each team is in principle thirty minutes. The team should allocate equitably the time available to the two oralists. However, the tribunal may extend the time limits stated as long as no team is allowed more than forty-five minutes in total to present their argument, including the time necessary to answer the questions of the arbitral tribunal. It is the arbitral tribunal's responsibility to ensure that the teams are treated fairly.

6.2 Arguments

During oral arguments, teams are not restricted to plead the arguments in their written memorials.

6.3 Order of presentation

(a) There is no set way of how issues should be plead. Some arbitral tribunals may ask one team to present its argument on all of the issues before the other team is permitted to present its argument. Other arbitral tribunals may ask both teams to argue one issue first before they both argue in respect of a second issue. Normally the party who has raised the issue will argue first. Therefore, normally the claimant would argue first, if it is to present its arguments on all of the issues before the respondent is permitted to argue. However, if the respondent has raised an objection, the arbitral tribunal would normally ask the objecting party to present its arguments on that issue before the other party responds to it.

(b) The arbitrators will decide whether rebuttal arguments will be permitted. Whether or not rebuttal will be allowed can be expected to change from one argument to the next. Each Team may reserve up to three minutes for rebuttal or surrebuttal.

6.4 Questions by Arbitrators

During oral arguments, the arbitrators are expected to act the way they would act in a real arbitration, taking into account that MIMAC is an educational exercise. Some arbitrators may interrupt an oral argument with persistent or even aggressive questioning. Other arbitrators may listen to an entire argument without asking any questions. Therefore, teams should be prepared for all scenarios.

6.5 Scoring

(a) Generally, the tribunals will consist of three arbitrators, but a pleading may also proceed with two arbitrators.

(b) Each arbitrator will score each of the oral advocates on a scale of 50 to 100. The scores of the two oral advocates will be added together to constitute the team score for that particular oral argument. Each team can score a maximum of 200 points per arbitrator per oral hearing. Arbitrators will score the oral arguments without knowledge of the results of earlier arguments or evaluation of memorials.

(c) Each individual arbitrator retains the discretion to decide the individual scores given to an oral advocate. There is no requirement that the arbitral tribunal agree on the scores. However, the arbitral tribunals are encouraged to discuss their scoring privately among themselves at the end of a pleading, prior to submitting the scores to MMCS.

(d) Where MMCS notices a considerable discrepancy in scoring, it will attempt to discuss the reasons with the tribunal member or members concerned and either confirm or moderate a score. An arbitrator whose score varies considerably from the other two will be invited to confirm or amend the score given.

(e) In the event that an arbitrator fails to submit a score, or where a pleading has proceeded with only two arbitrators instead of three, the missing score will be the average of the scores provided by the two arbitrators who have submitted scores.

(f) Team advisors may not act as an arbitrator in any of the oral rounds while their team is competing at MIMAC. Advisors may serve as arbitrators if their team has been eliminated or disqualified.

6.6 Rounds

(a) After the general rounds, the scores of each team for its oral presentation in the two oral arguments in the general rounds will be tallied. The top 4 teams that have obtained the highest total scores will meet in the semi-final.

(b) Team rankings and scores from the General Rounds will not be released to the Teams until after the close of MIMAC.

(c) The two winners of the Semi-Finals will meet in the Final Round. The Final Round will take place in an in-person format in the Republic of Maldives.

(d) In the General Rounds, MMCS will assign the roles of claimant and respondent. In the semi-finals and final round, the decision as to which team will be claimant and which will be respondent will be determined by a draw of lots.

6.7 Spectator Presence

Only MMCS, the arbitral tribunal, Team Members (excluding the two oralists), and their Advisors are permitted to observe the general rounds of argument and semi-finals. All observers must mute their microphones and disable their cameras while observing. The final round will be open to the public and will be recorded.

6.8 Technical Difficulties

In the event of technical difficulties, the oral arguments will proceed as directed by MIMAC. If a team fails to join the oral arguments, the arguments will continue ex parte after a waiting period of 25 minutes.

6.9. Practice Pleadings

Teams may organize practice pleadings involving the MIMAC Problem as part of their preparation. However, Teams are strictly prohibited from conducting practice pleadings with any team they are scheduled to compete in any oral rounds of MIMAC.
